CARE OF EARS Under Otologic Microscope

- The scope of care includes: ear cleaning, management of persistent ear infections and drainage, placement of ventilation tubes, tympanic membrane repair, and ear foreign body removal.

We provide consultation to patients regarding hearing loss, tinnitus and vertigo. These patients should have an audiogram first, then be referred to Dr. Wexler with a primary care office note and audiogram to convey background and urgency of the problem.

MANAGEMENT OF NOSE and Paranasal Sinuses

- The scope of care includes: office nasal endoscopy, surgical treatment of obstructive septal deviations and hypertrophic turbinates, chronic sinusitis, nasal polyps, and post-ER care for epistaxis and nasal fractures. We have a special interest in restoring physiologic nasal airflow.

For patients with "sinus headaches", it is best to refer for ENT opinion after a non-contrast Sinus CT is already completed.

MOUTH AND THROAT

- The scope of care includes: assessment and management of lesions of the oral membranes and tongue, floor of mouth, chronic tonsil infections and "tonsil stones", enlarged tonsils and adenoids/snoring/mouth-breathing. Upper airway evaluation is provided for patients with obstructive sleep apnea and work-ups for persistent throat discomfort and/or difficulty swallowing. We provide biopsies and excision of suspicious lesions.

HEAD AND NECK

- The scope of care includes: evaluation of masses and skin lesions, biopsies and excision. We provide diagnostic office fiberoptic endoscopy of the throat, and surgical laryngoscopy/management of laryngeal/hypopharyngeal lesions, vocal cord nodules, granulomas, and leukoplakia.

LPCC - Laryngo-Pharyngeal Consultation Clinic

- Dr. Wexler and Nadine Smith, MS, CCC-SLP collaboratively evaluate and treat a range of throat and voice problems. These problems include: dysphonia, dysphagia, globus sensation, chronic throat clearing, and laryngo-pharyngeal reflux.

Dr. Wexler is an academic affiliate of the UMASS Medical School Department of Otolaryngology and routinely consults with the ENT subspecialists there, expediting referral for university-level care when needed.
